Our Mission: To provide hope, education, and support to anyone affected by Sarcoma in the Pacific Northwest while investing in research to improve cure rates for Sarcomas.

The Northwest Sarcoma Foundation seeks to ensure that everyone who faces Sarcoma in the Pacific Northwest has a care team behind them. Our resource and outreach programs reflect our values:

- Compassion — Building a supportive and understanding Sarcoma community while providing comfort through our programs.
- Advocacy — Promote Sarcoma awareness to support early diagnosis.
- Responsibility — Funding regional and national Sarcoma research to drive advancements towards a cure.
- Education — Connecting anyone affected by Sarcoma with accurate and reliable resources.

Through prevention education, survivorship, and treatment research, we are fighting to end the devastating impact Sarcoma has on our lives.

We design and enact our programs with this mission and values in mind. We believe reporting accurately where the foundation currently stands and goals for the future are important in communicating to donors the foundation’s commitment to contributing to the Sarcoma community through transparency and responsibility to take sustainable actions and measuring progress over time.
The last few years have been challenging for all of us, including the NW Sarcoma Foundation. Met with a pandemic that is unprecedented in our lifetime, we were forced to “move” online as a society and an organization. We focused our efforts on ways we could continue to engender a sense of community amongst those who were impacted by a Sarcoma in a time when it was needed most, and to continue to live out our mission. It was hard!

With that said, I’m proud with the actions we took. We took the opportunity to look inward, we cut all unnecessary expenses and doubled down on the programs and activities that were most impactful for our constituents. Even during these times of economic hardship, we reached into our reserves to continue to provide our HELP$ grants because we knew it was the right thing to do. We also explored new virtual events with varying success, but all with the right idea in mind…to continue to live out our mission of ensuring no one faces Sarcoma alone. Over the pandemic we crossed a milestone we are incredibly proud of, we’ve now given more than $1,000,000 towards our HELP$ grant program! The challenge we are facing now is that, like many other non-profit organizations, we’ve seen a slow but steady drop-off in giving as the pandemic waned on. We are at a crossroads. In order to continue to live out our mission we need to get back on track with our fundraising efforts.

"...our focus for 2023 is Reconnecting."

We have begun shifting back to in-person events and are focused on reconnecting, and in some cases, re-establishing the relationships that helped make us so successful in the past. We believe the only way to get back to our “pre-pandemic” position is to push to deepen the relationships that got us here while forging new ones to help carry us forward. This is why our focus for 2023 is Reconnecting.

Reserves

Through careful fiscal planning, the NWSF leadership saved for a rough patch such as the pandemic we have experienced. We were able to draw from our reserves in order to sustain all programs and staffing levels.
WHAT’S TO COME IN 2023

Where do we go from here? The foundation is dedicated to continuing to support the Sarcoma community in a sustainable way. In the year to come, we will continue to provide our current programming, while seeking out funding opportunities to make sure they exist for years to come. Our developmental focus this year will be to make connections with individual donors. We want to ensure that every supporter feels that their money is being used to ensure No One Faces Sarcoma Alone.
